In total, 26 restaurants are participating in Downtown Norfolk's Restaurant Week. The event kicks off January 19 and goes until January 26.

The event offers a unique experience with price-fixed, multi-course dinners for $35 or $25, and lunch or brunch for $12.

“Downtown chefs are getting creative with offerings that range from coconut curry mussels to vegan bolognese,” said Jessica Kliner the director of marketing and communications for Downtown Norfolk Council. “Downtown Norfolk Restaurant Week is the perfect time to explore the many restaurants here and get a taste of everything Downtown has to offer.”

The event is coordinated by Downtown Norfolk Council and sponsored by Sysco, Performance Foodservice and VisitNorfolk.
